HEAVY MEAT EATERS HAVE SLOW KIDNEYS

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or Have Bladder trouble.

No man or woman who eats meat regular can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

Convicts to Get Good Dinner.

In keeping with a time honored custom, members of the county chain gang will receive on Thanksgiving day a rest from manual labor and an unusually good dinner. The chain gang force is at present divided into two camps, one working four miles east of Anderson and the other in the vicinity of Pendleton. As yet the menu for the camp at Pendleton has not been made out, but those stationed at the camp east of Anderson will be fed on chicken dumplings and rice. It is presumed, however, that the gang at Pendleton will be similarly dined. Already the management of the convict forces has procured some 15 hens for the feast to be given the gang members east of the city. Thanksgiving and Christmas are about the only holidays the convicts get and about the only days on which they are given such an extra dinner as that which will be given them Thursday. Few there are who begrudge the poor unfortunates their days of rest and good things to eat.

Magistrate Had A Quiet Day.

Yesterday was a day of only ordinary happenings in the court of Magistrate Broadwell, but two small cases coming before him for consideration. Dick Bailey, white, came forward and entered a plea of guilty on charges of gambling. As he was unable to pay a fine, the judge sentenced him to 30 days on the gang. Will White, colored, entered a plea of guilty to charges of beating a board bill. As White was devoid of cash, he was forced to repair to the gang for a sojourn of 30 days. It was alleged that Bailey was detected gambling in the vicinity of the Equinox Mill some six weeks ago. He was apprehended on yesterday. The negro was charged with gouging a local colored restaurant out of a bill for provender furnished him.

Whaley to Rock Hill Tomorrow.

Secretary Porter A. Whaley of the chamber of commerce leaves tomorrow for Rock Hill where he will attend the annual meeting of the State Commercial Secretaries Association. Mr. Whaley contemplates leaving here about noon and going to Greenwood, where he will take the Seaboard railway for Rock Hill. The meeting of the secretaries will be held on Friday. Mr. Whaley is vice president of the organization.

Greenville Lawyer Here Yesterday.

Walter M. Scott, of the Greenville bar and formerly a member of the Greenville county delegation to the general assembly, was in Anderson yesterday, having come here for the purpose of having entered on the docket of the court of common pleas several cases in which he is appearing as counsel for the plaintiffs. Mr. Scott is a native of Greenville county, having been born in the extreme lower portion of the county, which is directly east of Belton. He was one of the youngest representatives Greenville county has ever sent to the legislature and served his county with distinction. He did not offer for re-election last summer.

Change Finishing of Theatre Interior.

Another change which has been ordered in the theatre is that of using poplar instead of pine wood in finishing the interior. The poplar lumber, it is stated, will take on a better finish than pine, and as the theatre will be finished in mahogany the poplar will be even more suitable. The seats which have been ordered for the theatre will be of mahogany.

Raising Squabs For the Market.

There is one man in Anderson county, D. A. Reed of route 1, Belton, who is interested in the proposition of raising squabs for the market. Mr. Reed has gone into the business as yet on a very small scale, but states that if he can get the people of Anderson educated up to appreciate this delicious and palatable type of food he will go into the business on a larger scale. Mr. Reed is by occupation a farmer, but has found time to give some attention to the raising of squabs. He has at present some 30 pairs of Belgian Carneaux pigeons. Mr. Reed states that the squabs of these pigeons weigh, when dressed, from 8 to 12 ounces, while they often weigh more than the latter figure. He dresses and delivers squabs for $3.00 per dozen. Mr. Reed has been experimenting with pigeons for some two years and believes that the industry can be made profitable.

Former Resident of City Here.

W. G. Gray, formerly advertising manager of The Intelligencer and now manager of the Piedmont Contract company, is in the city for a short while. Mr. Gray has just completed a contest at Waterbury and will put on one this week at St. Matthews. From there he will go to Orangeburg next week, where he will conduct a contest for the Times and Democrat.

Changes in Plans of the Theatre.

Great improvements in the first escape facilities of the Anderson theatre, now in process of erection, have been ordered by those in charge. A window will be cut in the east and west walls, on a level with the balcony windows which were provided when the walls were being erected. The cutting of these extra windows will provide four fire escapes from the balcony. With the four escapes that have been provided on the ground floor of the theatre, it is estimated that the building could be emptied in the event of fire within a very few seconds.

Adjust Fire Loss Today.

It is understood that the matter of adjusting the loss sustained in the recent burning of the plant of the Fork Township Oil Mill company, at Townville, will be taken up today. In company with Q. Frank Johnson of the Citizens Insurance Agency, an inspector from the Townville recently to view the ruins of the burned plant. The adjusters and others interested in the matter will meet in the city today and endeavor to arrive at a settlement of the matter. The officials of the company are awaiting the outcome of this settlement before making any plans for rebuilding the plant.

Valuable Booklet For Housekeepers.

Walter H. Keese & Company, up-to-date jewelers of the city, are giving away to housekeepers a "valuable booklet entitled 'The Dining Room.' The pamphlet is composed of some 30 pages and treats of the dining table and its decoration and entertaining. It is designed to show the little finer points of hospitality and home culture and inexpensive ways of getting effects. The booklet is replete with illustrations of dining room decorations. Included with all this information is Mrs. Rorer's article on 'How to Set the Table.' Housekeepers generally will be glad of the opportunity to procure one of these little booklets.

State Flags For the Schools.

Miss Maggie M. Garlington, county supervisor of rural schools, has ordered from Clemson College several South Carolina state flags for those county schools which are without them. One of the requirements of schools entering the state school improvement association contest is that they possess both a national and a state flag. In addition to this, there is a state law which requires the state flag to be displayed from every public school building, except on rainy days and when the school is closed during vacation.

To Schools in State Contest.

A letter was received yesterday by Miss Maggie M. Garlington, county supervisor of rural schools, from Miss Mary Eva Hite, asking that all schools competing for state prizes in the state school improvement association contest send in their clean-up day score and pictures of the old and new school buildings, if possible, to Miss Garlington by November 28. There are some six or seven schools of Anderson county in the state contest.

Figures As To Fire Loss.

Figures were obtainable yesterday as to the value of the three houses in the south eastern section of the city which were destroyed Monday night, the amount of insurance carried on the dwellings and the amount of insurance which the occupants of the houses carried on their household effects. Two of the houses were burned about 7 o'clock, while the third was burned about 11:30 o'clock. All three were situated on Lena street, just outside the city limits. One of the houses, containing 5 rooms, belonged to Mrs. A. L. Snelgrove and was occupied by W. A. Guiley. The dwelling was worth some $300 and was insured for $600. Another house, of 6 rooms, was owned by Mrs. P. A. Simpson and was occupied by John Teasley. This cottage was worth about $750 and was insured for $550. Mr. Teasley carried $375 insurance on his household effects. The third and last cottage destroyed belonged to J. F. Wilson and was valued at about $800. It was insured for $350. The occupant of the house, Roman Renzor, a Pole, carried $400 insurance on his household effects.

Delegation Off To Clemson College.

Members of the Anderson county delegation to the general assembly left the city yesterday at noon for Clemson College, where they went to spend a couple of days inspecting the workings of the plant. The delegations of Oconee and Pickens counties were also invited to visit the institution at the same time as the Anderson delegation. The Anderson party will return late this afternoon.

Football Here On Thanksgiving.

A game of football for Thanksgiving day, to be played in this city, has been arranged between the teams of the Anderson High School and the Greenwood High School. The game will be played at Buena Vista park and will be called at 10 o'clock Thursday morning. Lovers of the sport will doubtless turn out in full force for the exhibition.

New Piano Man in City.

J. B. Skipper, of Conway, an experienced piano salesman, has accepted a position with the Patterson Music House. He took up his duties yesterday. Mr. Skipper comes highly recommended and will be accorded a hearty welcome as a resident of the best city in the State.

Plant Oats Until Dec. 20.

J. W. Rothrock, farm demonstrator for the Chamber of Commerce stated yesterday at the grain elevator meeting that he believed between 45,000 and 75,000 acres in Anderson county would be planted in grain this year, as against 25,000 acres for last year. He declared that it is not too late to plant oats, as they can be put in the ground as late as December 20. Mr.

Rothrock gave out the following statement for publication: 'I am urging the farmers, and I would appreciate the newspapers helping me, to continue planting oats until that day, and until they have at least 40 per cent. of their lands in grain. The oats at this time of the year should be planted in furrows. Wheat should be planted right away, because the time for planting wheat is almost over.'

Charleston Man Succeeds Babb.

Anderson members of the National Guard of South Carolina were interested to learn that on January 25 Capt. J. Chapter Caldwell, of Charleston, will become assistant to Adjutant General W. W. Moore, succeeding Col. Babb. Military men of the city were also interested to learn that Col. Julius E. Cogswell had tendered his resignation as head of the Third Regiment, and will be succeeded by Lieut. Col. H. B. Spings of Georgetown. Both Capt. Caldwell and Col. Cogswell are well known and popular in military circles of the State.

Sow Grain and Reduce Mule Power.

An Anderson farmer was heard to say yesterday that he was going to sow the larger portion of his plantation in grain and do away with several of his mules, for the simple fact that he will have no use for them with his place planted in this kind of crop. He stated that the strong brood mares could be used to do what little plowing would be necessary and at the same time could be foraging.

Shriners Going To Florence.

It is probable that several Shriners will leave Anderson this afternoon for the special Pullman sleeper for Florence, where a great ceremonial session of Omar Temple will be held Thursday. Hundreds of Shriners from all over the State will be there, in addition to several score of prominent members of the order from other States. The Anderson Pullman will leave here this afternoon and arrive at Florence Thursday morning. The car will leave there at 2 o'clock the following morning and arrive here at noon Friday.

Will Mercants Close Thursday.

It has been suggested that inasmuch as it is somewhat uncertain as to whether all the business establishments of Anderson will close for Thanksgiving it would be well for information pertaining to this matter be forthcoming today. Merchants and other business men are requested to telephone Secretary Whaley of the chamber of commerce whether or not they will close Thursday, so a note of the same can be made and published.

Palmetto Admission Ten Cents This Week.

The Anderson Comedy company, playing this week at the Palmetto theatre, seems to have struck a popular chord, and is praised by all who have seen it as a clean and high class performance. Manager Pinkston announced last night that he had determined to place a ten cent admission for afternoon and evening performances for the balance of this week, in order that the pupils of the schools may feel able to enjoy all the performances. "Baby Drew" is a wonderful little performer, and will be sure to please the children.

Cotton Safely Kept For Seven Years.

It is reported that an Anderson citizen yesterday discovered that he was the owner of a bale of cotton more than he believed he possessed. Seven years ago he placed a bale of long staple cotton in the local warehouse, and forgot all about it. Yesterday the manager informed him that his bale of cotton was still being safely kept. This cotton owner is now inquiring for a patent kicker to use as a cure for absentmindedness.

Judge Fowler Dines Friends.

An elegant dinner party was given last evening by Judge J. S. Fowler to a number of his friends at his beautiful country home several miles west of the city. Among those enjoying Judge Fowler's hospitality were the following: T. Frank Watkins, Gen. M. L. Bonham, Paul Dixon, William Laughlin, Kurtz Smith, Furman Smith, Curran Cooley, Porter A. Whaley, Swain Gilmer, Key Gilmer, J. S. Fowler, Jr.

Another Expert For This State.

Those interested in livestock will be gratified to learn that arrangements have been made with the dairy division in Washington to put on an additional man to work in cooperation with Clemson College division of animal husbandry extension bureau. Speaking of the interest which is being taken in this work, W. W. Long, State agent of the farmers' cooperative demonstration work, has said: "The first month, which was September, we started with nine shippers and we sent checks to these men for $175; last month we sent checks for $200, an increase of 66 per cent., and there will be a light increase this month. It must be remembered that the large percentage of cows in South Carolina become fresh in the spring, and we are expecting next spring such an increase that we will be returning to the farmers checks for their cream to the amount of $1,000 a month."

Iva Doctor to Move Here.

Dr. J. E. Watson of Iva who is going to make his home in Anderson after the first of the year was in Anderson yesterday on business. Dr. Watson is well known in Anderson, where he has scores of friends, and he will be cordially welcomed as a citizen of "My Town."

You can get the news while it's new in The Morning Daily Intelligencer.
